

The Outpost Foundation

Cordially invites you and a guest to

The Winter Charity Tournament “A Texas Tribute”

Tuesday, November 13, 2018

Trinity Forest Golf Club

Dallas, Texas

In February of 2017, Outpost Club members Glenn Garland, Russ Munsch and John Washburn, as well as their friend, Greg Reynolds De Haven played their final round, while on a golfing trip in Australia. A tragic plane crash, that took the lives of these wonderful men, left an impact on all of us. OC Co-Founder Quentin Lutz, said it very well, when he wrote "We are a family and it hurts when we lose even one member, but to lose them all at once and so suddenly hurts even more". We remember Glenn, Russ and John as members, as friends and as people that you wanted to be around all the time. When you were with them, it was not only great fun, but their love for the game was so infectious it made you love the game that much more.

As a small gesture, the Outpost Foundation has memorialized the foursome's passion for life and the game by awarding an annual scholarship, in their honor. Although it will not be a requirement, we were pleased that the first recipient not only embodies the vision of the Foundation and shares Glenn, Russ and John commitment to community involvement and education, but also is a Texas native. Congratulations to Simon Hale, a recent graduate from the University of Texas at Austin and a current employee at Boot Ranch golf club in Fredericksburg, Texas. He is currently in his second year of medical school and noted that the Outpost Scholarship will make a tremendous impact in the financial burden that comes with professional school. We are confident that the work ethic that Simon displayed on the grounds crew will easily translate to his studies, and he will represent the Foundation proudly.

Please join us for the Winter Charity Tournament, at Trinity Forest to tee it up in a tribute to Glenn, Russ and John.

Format: Two best-balls of the foursome where ONE GROSS and ONE NET ball is counted on each hole (each score must come from two distinct players). Prizes will be awarded to the winner and runner-up teams.

Course description (from www.top100golfcourses.com):

Trinity Forest may be the new kid on the block, but it has an old soul. Coore and Crenshaw have taken the best of their design elements from courses like Sand Hills Golf Club and have mixed them with the aesthetics of links golf resulting in a fun and challenging golf course that wouldn't feel out of place in Scotland or Ireland.

Coore and Crenshaw's signature flourishes are evident throughout with gaping, unruly bunkers and several forced carries. Yet the linkages to the origins of the game are clearly present with the course featuring blind shots, a Postage Stampstyle green and with the Texas wind blowing, a golfer's ground game will be put to the test.

Some holes of note are the par five, 5th hole featuring an uphill, blind tee shot which sets up a blind downhill second or third shot. The 8th is a long par three that has a gargantuan ridge in the middle of the green. Finally, the par four 14th is drivable by almost any golfer but the risks are great due to the strategically placed bunkers and an elevated green.

The course's undulations, blind shots and sandy features feel completely natural which makes Coore and Crenshaw's efforts even more remarkable given that the course is located on a northern Texas landfill.

Trinity Forest Golf Club's expressed intention is to bring major championship golf to the Dallas area and the layout is clearly designed with the pros in mind, maxing out at 7,450 yards and having enough space between holes to accommodate galleries. The course hosted to the PGA's Byron Nelson tournament in 2018 and as it matures, will certainly give the USGA and the PGA championship committees something to think about. Trinity Forest is a must play for any fan of links golf or Coore and Crenshaw.

Charity: The Outpost Foundation's primary purpose is to promote awareness and raise financial support for worthwhile charitable and educational causes in the United States through golf events and related activities. Funds raised will be contributed to an annual scholarship program to benefit our educational mission for need-based students. These annual scholarships will provide college tuition assistance to deserving students involved in the game of golf.

Pictured right: Austin Krewson, 2018 recipient who said: "Forever grateful for the scholarship I received from your great foundation. It's so great to see generous organizations like this giving back to kids like myself. It's allowing me to keep living my dream each day. I can't wait to be in the position to give back in the future!! #thankful"
